Solitary Confinement for Youth: Change the law that allows sentenced youth to be held in isolation for 18 to 22 hours a day.

Expand Protections for Young Adults: Expand young adult offender status to age 25 allowing the opportunity to not have a lifelong criminal record and mandatory prison sentences.

End the Adult Incarceration of Youth: Change the law so adolescent offenders can be sentenced to secure Office Of Children and Family Services facilities not a prison for adults.

Requires advocacy: talking to legislators, asking for public hearings and pushing for legislation to amend existing criminal justice law.
